Contents:

Take a topic per week and answer the questions below it using the Bible and your personal reflections. Also, think over each topical summary statement (beside each topic) and explain in your own words what it means. Next, study the Scripture passage associated with it. Try to understand the topic considering the passages’ context, author, audience, and present circumstances. Take the following passages and study through them 1-3 verses a day using the inductive method study sheet (included). Ask God to “open your eyes, that you may behold the wonderful things in His Word” (Psalm 119:18). At the end of each week answer the question, “How has your view of this topic changed because of this study? What paradigm shifted for you?”

Studying the Bible ~ Inductive Method

One of, if not, the key to developing a deeper relationship with God is to spend time studying His Word, the Bible. At times it isn't easy to spend time in the Bible, but it is a discipline which will yield much delight.

Here are just a few thoughts on how to go about spending time with God in His word:

*Set aside time and go - Go somewhere that you won't be disturbed. Get alone!

*Spend some time praying before you read and study; ask God to remove distractions and to allow you to focus on and understand His Word. "Open my eyes that I may behold wonderful things from Your law" (Psalm 119:18) and ask Him to reveal His Son Jesus through the Scripture (John 5:39, 40).

*Have a notebook or journal to write thoughts down in. It is much easier to maintain a steady train of thought and remember what you are learning when you are recording your thoughts.

-Start with simple details of the verse: OBSERVE: (looking at the verse as whole) "WHAT?"

1. What is the main point of the verse? What is it saying? Who is the author? Who is the audience?
2. Is the verse a command, caution, covenant(promise), comparison, contrast, or cause/effect or conditional?
3. Purpose: What did I observe in the verse? (What, When, Where, How, Why explicit, Who)

-Then write some of your thoughts on the verse: INTERPRET: (breaking it down in parts) "WHY?"

1. Why is the author writing this/using these words? Use a dictionary to define foreign terms.
2. Look into things such as the content of the verse, culture for which it was written and the context in which the verse is used.
3. Cross-reference: find other verses in the Bible which give more insight, or which address the same subject. Look in margins for related verses as well as in the topical list in the back of your Bible.
4. Purpose: Why was it written? (Place a "why?" in front of each observation)

-Finally write down some applications for yourself today: APPLY: (making it usable) "HOW?"

1. Translate the verse into your own words. Remember it with a catchy slogan or phrase. The key is to keep it in your mind!
2. How is this verse relevant to me? How can I be like, act more like, or believe more in line with this verse? How will it affect my interactions with others?
3. The key to Bible Study is that by learning about God we would become more like him. Make a specific application from what was learned that will affect how you live today and pray that God would be faithful to bring it about in the coming day.
4. Purpose: How will this affect the way I live today?

2. Why was it crucial for him to be both to carry out God's mission for him?
3. How would you describe Jesus' life purpose?

John 1:1-14
